WM. H. ALLISON
DIES SUDDENLY;
CEMETERY SUPT.

William H. Allison, 55, a veteran of World War I and superintendent of the Gettysburg National cemetery for the last 13 months, died suddenly at 9:20 o'clock Wednesday evening at the cemetery lodge after having been taken ill in the afternoon. A heart attack caused death.

Mr. Allison had suffered two previous heart attacks, one eight years ago and another last November. He had been in his usual health on Wednesday but in the afternoon began feeling ill while in an uptown grocery store. He drove to his home and later was seen by a physician. Death occurred suddenly, and the cause was given as coronary occlusion.

The deceased had been superintendent of the National cemetery here since June 14, 1944, coming here from Ft. McHenry, Baltimore, where he had been historian for two years.

Past Commander Of Legion
Mr. Allison was a native of Gettysburg and a son of the late Herbert Pedon and Victoria (Dougherty) Allison.

He was a member of the Arendtsville Lutheran church, the Elks lodge of Gettysburg, the Albert J. Lentz post No. 202 of the American Legion of which he was a past commander; the Gettysburg Rotary club and the Battlefield Guides' association of which he was a past president.

During his residence in Arendtsville, he served a number of years as a member of the school board there.

Commissioned Overseas

The deceased entered military service November 4, 1917 in Baltimore and after successive promotions to corporal, sergeant and first sergeant, he sailed for overseas duty July 8, 1918. While abroad he attended an Army Candidates' school and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the infantry. He was assigned to the 112th Infantry and served with that outfit during the Argonne drive. He returned to the United States in May, 1919 and was discharged May 21, that year, at Camp Dix, N. J.

He had been a battlefield guide here for a number of years and then entered National Park Service in 1933, serving as historian for the Civilian Conservation Corps. During this period he resided at Arendtsville. His appointment to the Fort McHenry post followed and then he came back to Gettysburg last year.

Interment in National Cemetery

Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Mary Myers to whom he was married July 17, 1913; two children, both serving in the U. S. Marine Corps, Capt. William B. Allison, a veteran of Pacific duty now serving at Arlington, Va., and Pfc. Jane Allison of the Women's Marine Corps Reserve at Cherry Point, N. C. There are two grandsons and two sisters, Mrs. Ralph C. Ziegler, Pittsburgh, and Mrs. John Belenardo, New Haven, Conn.

Funeral services Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Bender funeral home with interment with military honors in the National cemetery.

Friends may call Friday evening after 7 o'clock at the funeral home. Chaplain George H. Berkheimer, pastor of the Arendtsville church while he serves as a chaplain with the U. S. Army, will officiate at the service. Chaplain Berkheimer is in the states and expects to be home in time to conduct the funeral.

Favors Hospital
Here To Honor
Gen. Eisenhower

A reader of The Times is in hearty accord with the suggestion offered in Tuesday's Times that the proposed veterans' hospital be erected at Gettysburg and be named the General Dwight D. Eisenhower Memorial hospital.

Paul M. Reed, York street, in a letter to The Times today supported the suggestion as follows: "Referring to your 'Here and There' item of July 10, I am in hearty accord. Gettysburg is the 'Spot of Spots' in the state for a veterans' hospital . . . with its mild and most healthful climate, its historic and patriotic background . . . Lincoln and the Battle of Gettysburg, and General Dwight D. Eisenhower's service here as Commander of Camp Colt in the first World War."

"What a spot . . . and what a name . . . for a living recognition and appreciation of the success and sacrifice of our service men and their great commander, General Eisenhower."

"Yes, the proposed Veterans' Hospital should be erected in Gettysburg and it should be named the General Dwight D. Eisenhower Memorial Hospital."

Army Conference
Postponed Again

The eleventh monthly Post Commanders' Conference of the Third Service Command, Baltimore, scheduled to be held at Gettysburg college July 25 and 26 has again been postponed.

Colonel William K. Wilemon, director of supply, of the Third Service Command, in announcing the postponement, which was first scheduled for July 11 and 12, said: "General Hayes is making excellent progress toward complete recovery, but it cannot be determined at this time when he will be back on duty. This fact, plus the current pressure and urgency of business makes postponement necessary until early in August."

"BOBBY" MARCH
STARS ON CAMP
BASEBALL NINE

Pvt. "Bobby" March, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George March, 501 York street, is setting a fast pace on his regimental baseball team at Camp Gordon, Ga., and is a mainstay in keeping his team in the league race.

In a recent game March led the swatters with four hits out of five times at bat and in a previous game topped the sluggers with five blows out of six trips to the plate.

The "Camp Gordon Cadence," the official camp newspaper, published the following on March:

"With Bobby March again setting the pace with a home run, double and two singles in five times at bat, the fighting 7th Regiment 'Tigers' blasted the 3rd Regiment 13-5 on the Service Club No. 1 diamond. March, who was inducted into the army direct from college, played ball with the Gettysburg college nine in Pennsylvania before coming to Camp Gordon. Last week the lad collected 5 for 6 including a home run and two doubles."

Starred for GHS
Another issue of the camp paper said this of March:

"In a game marked with thrills and scoring threats, the 5th Regiment nine was defeated by a fighting 7th Regiment team 11 to 9. For the 7th Regiment March starred with his four hits out of six trips to the plate and all around spectacular playing."

March was a basketball star at Gettysburg high school and during his first year at college, before he was inducted, starred on the basketball and baseball teams.

At camp he has been playing at varied spots, including third base, short-stop, right and center field.

MISS SEASE AND
VETERAN WED

Donald G. Wisotzky, discharged veteran of overseas service and holder of the Purple Heart medal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Wisotzky, 44 Breckenridge street, and Miss Virginia M. Sease, manager of the Gettysburg office of the Western Union telegraph company and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brade Sease, Waynesboro, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in the rectory of St. Joseph's Catholic church, Emmitsburg.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Currens in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. The couple was attended by S. I. C. and Mrs. Francis Wisotzky, Gettysburg, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride wore an aqua linen street length dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias and baby's breath.

A reception followed at the home of Mrs. Esther Forry, 302 North Stratton street. The couple will be (Please Turn to Page 2)

PUC Gives Permits
To Haul Prisoners

The Public Utility Commission today granted temporary transportation permits to two local firms for the purpose of transporting prisoners of war to their places of employment, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Harrisburg.

A four-month permit was granted M. G. Rouzer, Guernsey, to convey prisoners of war from the local camp in Gettysburg to the plant of the Knouse Corporation at Peach Glen. A four-month permit was granted to the Adams Transit Co., York, to transport agricultural cannery factory workers between their home in Adams and York counties to nearby canneries, orchards and farms and prisoners of war from Gettysburg and Stewartstown, York county, to local cannery factories.

RILEY WILL FILED
The will of Orville S. Riley of Gettysburg, who died June 26, was admitted for probate today at the office of Register and Recorder Winfield G. Horner. His daughter Cora Riley Halsey was named executrix.

In Merchant Marine

Chief Cook Clyde Baumgardner, 41, and his 18-year-old son, Clyde, an able bodied seaman, both of Biglerville, are serving in the Merchant Marine and are believed to be the only father and son from this county in the maritime service. Both entered the Merchant Marine last January and shipped out together on their first run from Norfolk to Boston.

Clyde, Jr., who is now at Baltimore, started as a cook's helper but switched on later trips to a deck job. He is about to begin his fifth voyage. The father, who is home on a 30-day leave, has just returned from his longest trip, a two-month voyage to Naples, southern France and North African ports. After the first war he was a cook for three years in the regular army and then worked on a cargo ship on the Great Lakes.

Mrs. Baumgardner continues operation of their restaurant in Biglerville.

COUNTIAN WINS
BRONZE STAR

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Heintzelman, Gettysburg, R. D. 2, have recently received the Bronze Star medal which was awarded to their son, S. Sgt. Charles A. Heintzelman, of the infantry "for meritorious service in France during the period from August 8 to November 30, 1944" as a clerk with headquarters Special Troops of the 80th Division of the Third Army.

The medal was awarded, for the performance of duty as "clerk of the Headquarters Special Troops in an outstanding and superior manner." Sgt. Heintzelman's "conscientiousness and devotion to duty and handling of administrative problems have been such," the citation reads, "as to reflect credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States."

In a recent letter, Sgt. Heintzelman who is stationed at Vocklabruck, Austria, near Hitler's birthplace at Brenau, mentions a trip to Lake Gmundner and a ride on a mountain cable car.

Brother in Service

He says: "In addition to a nice ride on the lake we were able to take a tour up one of the snow capped mountain peaks. We went up by way of a small car which held 17 of us and was controlled by cables. We were so far off the ground at times that it seemed we were in an airplane. It was different anyway from the incline at Lookout Mountain, Tennessee, where the incline was on a railroad track."

"Despite the snow on top of this mountain the climate was so mild that some were lying around getting a good suntan while there was snow only a few steps away. It really seemed odd."

Sgt. Heintzelman has a brother, Pfc. Calvin Heintzelman, who is with the Seventh Army. Calvin was wounded twice during July and August of last year, and his parents expect him home at any time.

FIREMEN TO ASK
CASH DONATIONS

The Gettysburg fire company will ask for cash donations instead of food and other items for its annual food sale and bazaar Friday, July 27. It was decided at its meeting at the engine house Wednesday night.

Subscription cards were also distributed to the members of the company for use in soliciting in the company's house-to-house canvass by D. C. Stallsmith, chairman of the committee for the bazaar, who announced that the business enterprises in town had promised numerous prizes for the drawing to be held at 9 p. m. the night of the bazaar.

Reports on the sale of chances for the drawing were also made. The report of the salvage drive June 17 indicated that five tons of scrap were gathered and sold for $50. The next salvage drive to include both tin and paper will be held Sunday, July 15, commencing at 1:30 p. m.

All residents of the borough are urged to have their tin and paper ready for collection at that time.

James B. Aumen, president of the fire company, was the presiding officer. Upon adjournment the next meeting was called for the second Wednesday in August.

News Collected At Random

That Japan feared the loss of Burma as early as last year is evidenced in the propaganda it dropped and spread through the area warning the Burmese that they must exert every effort to defeat the Americans and English.

Sgt. Paul J. Kuhn, who is serving in the Burma theater of operations, sent the following English translation of a piece of Jap propaganda:

"Together with you we have fought the Great Asia War and now is the Third Anniversary of success. This is the Second Year of Burma's achieving freedom. But the real peace has not been achieved. That real peace will be achieved only after this war. As long as the real peace is not achieved there will be unhappiness, and hardships, may be encountered from now on. Hardships and unhappiness must be patiently borne. We must fight to win this war. Together we are fighting the English and Americans and therefore we must stick together to win this war."

"If you all do not unite with the Imperial Army you will be defeated in this war and you will become the slaves of the enemy, the British and Americans, dominated and suppressed, and that will be worse than unhappiness and hardships which you have undergone before. Take note—if this war is won Burma will achieve the real peace described above and the materials of living will increase abundantly."

"This war is being fought to stabilize the independence you have already won. You will have to put your heart and soul to the utmost in your efforts in prosecuting this war to win the final victory."

MISS M. L. DOCK
DIES; STARTED
STATE FOREST
CONSERVATION

Miss Myra Lloyd Dock, who observed her 91st birthday anniversary last Christmas Day, one of Pennsylvania's most outstanding and distinguished women, died at 3:45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at her mountain home on the Lincoln highway, a few miles west of Cash-town. Infirmities of age were given as the cause of death.

Miss Dock, generally credited with the inspiration and the background for the beginning of Pennsylvania's reforestation program, served as a member of the State Forestry Commission under three governors.

The deceased attended Miss Dixon's school in Harrisburg; St. James school, Lancaster; Brook Hall, in Media, and spent one year as a biological student at the University of Michigan.

Studied Abroad

In 1895 Miss Dock went to Europe to make a thorough study tour of the Black Forests of Germany and studied forestry under the eminent forester Sir Dietrich Brannan.

Continuing her travels Miss Dock visited, studied and did clinical work in the forests and fields of 48 Pennsylvania counties and in 12 other states of the union, accumulating a vast store of knowledge on forestry and conservation. She made additional tours to Canada and Europe and wrote biological and forestry articles and contributed regularly to garden and forest publications for a number of years.

When she returned to Harrisburg, Miss Dock, tiring of the drab picture of Harrisburg beauty centers, and as an enthusiastic member of the Civic Club at the turn of the century, called for an awakening and betterment of civic conditions. The garden spots of Harrisburg are credited to her efforts to beautify the city.

Served On Forest Commission

Her efforts attracted the attention of Governor William H. Stone who conceded that her background offered the state new opportunities for forestry protection and development and appointed her a member of the State Forest Preserve Commission.

Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker reappointed her and Governor Edward C. Stuart returned her to the (Please Turn to Page 2)

Tribute To
Miss Myra Dock

Adams county lost yesterday a distinguished citizen, Miss Myra Lloyd Dock. Living to a great age, she continued, until a few months ago, to be interested in her family, her friends, her state and her nation. She was during her earlier life a student and writer on various scientific subjects. An authority on certain technical divisions of botany, she did not limit herself to theory. A member for many years of the State Board of Conservation, she addressed countless organizations throughout the state on Pennsylvania's natural resources and their preservation.

She was especially interested in the flora of her own neighborhood. No rare plant—gentian, lupine, trillium, iris, orchid, was unknown to her. Exploring the forests by the old tracks of charcoal burners, she knew where laurel and rhododendron were to be found.

MERCURY DROPS
TO 47 DEGREES

Gettysburg and Adams county also felt a touch of the cold spell which sent the thermometer to record lows for July in many parts of the state, with the temperature hitting 47 degrees last night.

The reading this noon on Doctor Stewart's official recording thermometer was only 76.

24 Above Zero

Warren, Pa., July 12 (AP)—The coldest summer weather in years in Northern Pennsylvania today with a low of 24 above zero registered at Morrison Run, near here. In Warren the mercury hit 45 above.

Coldest In 68 Years

Pittsburgh, July 12 (AP)—This was the coldest July 12 in 68 years in Pittsburgh. The temperature dropping to 53 degrees. Weather Forecaster W. S. Brotzman said he had reports of even colder weather elsewhere, with 37 at Brookville and 45 in Mt. Lebanon. Warmer weather was predicted for tomorrow.

U. S. Rocket-Firing
Planes Rip Japan;
British In Action

Guam, July 12 (AP)—Bombing and rocket-firing planes ripped Southern Japan and its island approaches Wednesday in a fiery follow-up to the big carrier and land-based air assault on Honshu and a Japanese military commentator told his people that adequate defense of the homeland from invasion required the growing challenge be met.

(The Federal Communications Commission, meanwhile, recorded a Tokyo broadcast that a British carrier task force sent more than 200 planes from two flattops Wednesday morning against Sabang island off the northern tip of Sumatra, 700 miles northwest of Singapore.)

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today that "strong forces of Corsair fighters and Avenger torpedo bombers" raided Kyushu and the Northern Ryukyus Wednesday. They bombed, rocketed and strafed hangars, shops and buildings at Miyazaki airfield on southeast Kyushu, the Inju airfield on Tanaga island to the south and installations in the Amimi group, Northern Ryukyus.

Aussies Gain
In Steaming
Borneo Forest

By SPENCER DAVIS

Manila, July 12 (AP)—Australian seventh infantry and Dutch colonial troops advanced slowly today on Borneo's rich Sambodja oil fields despite the tough delaying action being fought by beached Japanese naval personnel in the steaming, rain-soaked equatorial forests.

Some six miles north of the Balikpapan town area, the Aussies, their path cleared by P-38 fighters of the 13th Army airforce which sprayed a 12-mile area with jellied gasoline, breached the outer lines of the Japanese hinterland defense in an advance on "smashed stone" ridge.

The forward Digger elements, in driving a three-mile wedge into the Japanese positions, moved to within a half mile of the ridge, Mt. Batochampar, a 200-foot hill feature on which the Nipponese were well fortified.

Repulse Counter-blows

On the central sector, other Aussies repulsed Japanese counter-attacks three miles inland from the mouth of the Sepinggang Ketjil river, where the perimeter guards the Sepinggang airfield. Associated Press War Correspondent Russell Brines reported the captured Sepinggang field within 10 days of completion and its Japanese built asphalt runways capable of extension to 1,200 feet.

Dutch airmen, piloting Mitchell medium bombers are ready to go in to operation from the field as soon as it is completed.

On the right flank, the Australians fighting along the single lane highway five and a half miles northeast of captured Mangar airfield received both naval and aerial bombardment support to smash Japanese artillery and mortar fire. Melbourne radio reported they had reached the Adajaranden river.

More than 40 Fifth Air Force Liberators pounded three west coast Formosa airfields in continuation of the neutralization raids there, while in bypassed New Guinea the Australian sixth division has achieved greater than half its objectives in ridding the big island of the enemy. Melbourne reported. The radio quoted the Army department as saying the Aussies had counted the 6,000th dead Japanese on New Guinea.

Slash Jap Pockets

Although in its twilight, the mop-up campaign is still active as the Yankees hunt down the close to 30,000 Japanese still holding out throughout the Philippines. On northern Luzon a pocket of from 12,000 to 14,000 Japanese are holding out in the rugged Cordillera, central and Sierra Madre mountains. The Sixth infantry division reported the capture of an elaborate enemy stronghold in the Kian-gan sector which had withstood artillery, air and infantry heavy weapons assaults for days.

On investigation, the Red Star infantrymen of Maj. Gen. Charles Hurd found the position included 13 pillboxes, 22 interlocking entrenchments and caves as well as 53 other prepared positions. Some of the foxholes were four to 11 feet deep and tunneled back at the bottoms into the hillside. Fronting the position were five tank traps.

Swimming Class
Is Opened Today

Swimming instruction will begin this afternoon under the Red Cross Water Safety and Life Saving Committee of the Adams County Chapter of the Red Cross at the M. V. Coleman pool on the Biglerville road.

Miss Jean Livingston, of Gettysburg college, will be an instructor in the place of James Maples who has been inducted into the army. Miss Livingston is certified as an instructor under the Red Cross Water Safety and Life Saving program. She will assist Richard Scherch, of Gettysburg college, who has been working with Mr. Maples.

Those who have enrolled at the Coleman pool are: David Perry Swope, Kenneth Deardorff, Francis Becker, John W. Bashore, Jay Arneson and Kathryn Kail.

Another class for adults at the Benner pool, Fairfield, will open this evening under the direction of G. Kent Stoddard. The class will be limited to ten persons and will last from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Washington, July 12 (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee today unanimously approved the nomination of General Omar N. Bradley to be administrator of veterans affairs.

London, July 12 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Wladyslaw Anders, who was appointed by the Polish exile government in London last February as commander of all Polish land, sea and air forces abroad, issued an order of the day today protesting Allied recognition of the new Warsaw provisional government.

Pittsburgh, July 12 (AP)—While scores of pedestrians watched, a workman, bravely withstood the pain of an arm crushed in a hopper conveyor today while fellow workers used acetylene torches to cut away a part of the structure and free him.

Berlin, July 12 (AP)—The inter-allied kommandatur of Berlin announced today that all existing Soviet regulations and orders would be continued in force "until special notice."

The announcement came a few hours after Red army authorities formally relinquished control of 12 of Berlin's 29 boroughs to American and British officials. There was no observable change in the Russian pattern of rule.

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Failure to control the speed of an eastbound extra freight train in accordance with signals caused a side collision of two freight on the Pennsylvania railroad at Creighton, Pa., June 6, the ICC reported today. Two railroad employees were killed and five injured.

Japs Lose 17,000 Planes

The fleet admiral, however, had nothing further to report on the powerful blast Tuesday by more than 1,000 carrier planes of Vice Adm. John S. McCain's Task Force 38 at a network of more than 70 airfields in the Tokyo area. His only "preliminary reports" on the action, making an incomplete assessment of results through Tuesday morning, had listed 154 enemy planes knocked out, all but two on the ground.

(In Washington, a navy official said navy and marine planes alone already have destroyed more than 17,000 Japanese planes since the outbreak of the war.)

Tokyo radio said the carrier assault continued for a 12-hour period during which augmenting land-based planes, including more than 500 Superfortresses, pushed to beyond 1,900 the number of American raiders over Honshu that day.

Prelude to Battle
"Enemy propaganda on the intensifying air assault cannot be ignored," a Japanese military commentator said over Tokyo radio to his people.

"Future attacks from the air undoubtedly will be the prelude to the decisive battle on the homeland. 'Without being able to resist (this air) challenge, we cannot annihilate the enemy on the homeland.' Nimitz said marine aircraft scored rocket hits Tuesday night on 'a number' of enemy ships of unidentified category off the south coast of Honshu. During the day, navy search planes set three enemy small cargo ships afire off the China coast.

In Manila, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's spokesman disclosed that Japanese anti-aircraft fire on the fortress island of Formosa is diminishing under the daily pounding given it by Fifth Air Force bombers.

LAMBAST JAPS
WITH PT BOATS

In the Pacific, (By Mail)—As Allied assault troops stormed tiny, oil-wealthy Tarakan island off Northern Borneo, John Clair Butler, gunner's mate, third class, USNR, of Gardners, Penna., supported the landings in a Seventh Fleet motor torpedo boat.

Remarking that his PT "got several Jap barges, luggers and sampans," Butler said they "mainly prevented trapped Japanese imperial marines from escaping across a three-mile strait into Borneo."

"Resistance on parts of Tarakan was bitter, for the enemy had hundreds of land mines," he said. He contends the Japs are poor marksmen, because: "Water traffic was heavy, yet shell after shell missed their targets by long distances."

Butler's wife and three children—Shirley Anna, Nancy E., and John L., live in Hanover. His father, William H. Butler, lives on Gardners R. 2.

Since enlistment November 8, 1943, Butler has served 11 months in the Southwest Pacific and has been on 28 PT patrols.

INVASION OF JAPAN IS NOT EXPECTED SOON

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The fierce aerial bombardment which Admiral (Bull) Halsey's carrier-based warplanes have administered to Japan has led the Tokyo radio commentators to speculate whether this is the curtain-raiser for invasion.

Well, it could be, but the signs are that (barring some unexpected development) the Mikado's mother islands will undergo an awful softening up before we send our gallant troops up onto the beaches of Japan's serrated and strongly defended coast. Undoubtedly the little men of Nippon would like to see us strike now, before bombs have anesthetized their home-land.

Under no Pressure

However, the Allied command is under no enemy pressure in the Pacific and may be expected to proceed methodically in carrying out its program. That contemplates the blasting of Japan with continuous air raids until she is thoroughly off balance and number. Then we shall invade. That is, we shall invade unless the Mikado's government is smart enough to surrender before then and so save the country useless death and destruction.

How long will it take to reduce the main islands to the point where we can carry out amphibious invasions without undue casualties? That's a matter of pure speculation, of course, but it's safe to say we can do it much more expeditiously than in the case of Germany, and we have the testimony of German field Marshals Kesselring and von Rundstedt that Allied bombing was the chief factor in the collapse of the fatherland. There are military experts who believe we could knock Japan out completely by bombing, but that remains to be demonstrated and can't be assumed at this juncture by any means.

Sees Long Bombing

Many observers have the feeling that the bombing of Japan may continue for several months as a preliminary to invasion—always making allowance for some fortuitous circumstance which would invite an earlier landing on the Japanese mainland. However, by October we should have a good idea of how things stand.

There are several reasons for this viewpoint. One is that we should be able in that period to bring sufficient aerial striking-power into play to give Japan's stamina a thorough test. Then it's going to take much time to transport troops and equipment from Europe and America to the Pacific theatre for the clean-up.

Wait Opportune Time

And finally, one wouldn't expect an American invasion of Japan to come before the British get into action against the East Indies—and the heavy monsoon rains and winds in the Indian ocean area certainly will hamper, if not preclude, major offensives by Britain before the monsoon ends in October. That doesn't mean that there won't be operations in the British theatre during the stormy season, but a drive against mighty Singapore, for instance, would seem to call for favorable weather.

Anyway, three months isn't a very long time in which to test Japan's mettle by bombing. Meantime the general Allied position in the war of the Orient is rounding into fine shape.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Plowman and their sons, Robert and Walter, Jr., of Hanover, were recent guests of Mrs. Plowman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey J. Oyler, Gettysburg R. D.

Mrs. Zurline Morje, New York city, has concluded a visit with Mrs. John D. Keith, Carlisle street.

Mrs. Robert Lefever, Philadelphia, is visiting with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lefever, East Broadway. Her husband, Doctor Lefever, expects to join her here for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kenworthy and their three children, East Broadway, are vacationing in Maine. Enroute there Mrs. Kenworthy and the children visited at her parents' home in Connecticut.

The Gettysburg WCTU will meet with Miss Carrie Musselman on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. S. S. Neely, West Lincoln avenue, has returned from a two months' visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul S. Gilbert, of Massapequa Park, Long Island, and with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Clancy, Upper Darby.

At a presentation of "The Creation" by Joseph Haydn as the 5th annual Choral Festival of the Williamsport Summer Choir school given recently at the Williamsport Methodist church, Mrs. Edward Orvis served as accompanist and Miss Janice Sachs as a member of the choir. Miss Sachs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther I. Sachs, Locust Lane, returned recently from visit with her sister.

Members of the Tabern club held a picnic meeting Wednesday evening at Long-View, Carlisle road. The next meeting will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Charles Pitzer, Eberhart apartments.

dron were most abundant, the trees tallest, the streams most clear.

"Great Hearted"

That her name is unknown to many of her fellow-countians is an indication not of her lack of achievement but of her modest estimate of herself. Sometimes her name appeared on lists of contributors to county welfare activities. This happened only when, in sending her cheque forgot to say, "Record me as A Friend—no more."

She wrote, many years ago, at the request of Alexander McClure, then editor of the Philadelphia Press, a long article on Thaddeus Stevens as an iron-master. In it she speaks of the "dear remembrance" in which he was held on South Mountain. No phrase can better describe the feeling of South Mountain for her.

Her friendships extended far beyond the bounds of Pennsylvania. Charming, witty, learned, great-hearted, she will be forgotten by no one who knew her.

RELEASED FROM JAIL

Lester Goodermuth, West Middle street, committed to jail Monday on charges of drunkenness and disorderly conduct was released today by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder upon payment of a fine of $10 and costs.

County Shrine Club Picnics At Caledonia

The Shrine club of Adams county held its first picnic Wednesday afternoon and evening at Caledonia park with about 125 members present. Arrangements were in charge of the president, Radford Lappy. Free golf and swimming and horseshoe and softball contests provided amusement. A supper was served to the lodgement.

Charles G. Stone, potentate of Zembo Temple at Harrisburg, and other officers attended the outing.

TWO COUNTIANS MEET OVERSEAS

Paul R. Knox, Pfr. 1/c, of the Construction and Repair Division of P. T. Base 17, somewhere in the south Pacific, met Chaplain Marshall E. Brennenman who is chaplain of the base. Both men are from Gettysburg.

Pfr. 1/c Knox is married to the former Evelyn Spence and has a daughter, Joan. He is the son of Robert Knox, Gettysburg R. D. He landed at his present base from an LCI and has been petty officer in charge of base painting. Now that his job is virtually completed he expects to be transferred.

In a letter to The Gettysburg Times, Pfr. 1/c Knox states that he receives The Times regularly and passes it on to Chaplain Brennenman who in turn passes it on to Dame Yost, formerly a student at Gettysburg college.

Chaplain Brennenman is a native of Carlisle and graduated from the Lutheran seminary here in 1939. He was a director of Camp Nawakwa near Biglerville and prior to going overseas, served at the Coast Guard Training Station, Palm Beach, Florida.

As chaplain in charge at his present base he holds services in a chapel there which was dedicated by the Chaplain of the Seventh Fleet, Captain P. L. Albert, June 3 of this year.

CHIFLEY IS NEW PRIME MINISTER

Canberra, Australia, July 12 (AP)—A former locomotive engineer and son of a blacksmith became prime minister of Australia today when the Labor party chose Joseph Benedict Chifley as its leader.

Chifley, who will be 60 in September, has been treasurer of the Labor government and was the closest friend and confidante of the man he succeeds—the late John Curtin.

He won a commanding lead in caucus balloting over Deputy Prime Minister Forde and Norman John Oswald Makin, minister of navy and munitions. The Labor party chose Forde as deputy leader.

Six foot, pipe-smoking, ruddy Chifley is little known to the average Australian. However, he did impress the rank and file of all parties as a leader in recent months when he served as acting prime minister.

In an exclusive interview with the Associated Press just before his election was established, Chifley spoke feelingly of his plans for improving the living standards of the "little man" of Australia.

JUDGE APPEARS BEFORE PROBERS

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson of Pennsylvania's middle district appeared today at a congressional hearing into his conduct and is expected to testify later in the day.

In response to an invitation by a House Judiciary subcommittee which is conducting the hearing, Judge Johnson appeared as the committee resumed sessions at 10:15 a. m. (EWT). He was accompanied by three Luzerne county lawyers, former District Attorneys John H. Bigelow and Thomas M. Lewis and former Judge Michael F. McDonald. McDonald said the judge would make an oral statement to the subcommittee "when called" and would "submit to questioning."

Two other witnesses were scheduled ahead of him.

Hospital Report

The following were admitted to the Warner hospital today: F. E. Brame, Gardners R. 1; Mrs. J. Earl Plank, Gettysburg R. 2; Julia Catharine Brezler and Gilbert Brezler, 209 North Washington street; David Nett, high school loid; Kenneth Snyder, Brooklyn, Md.; Shirley Bailey, Biglerville; Mrs. George Fisher, Rocky Ridge, Md.; and William George, Gettysburg R. D. 4.

The following were discharged: Joann Sheaffer, infant daughter of the late Mrs. John Peter Sheaffer, York Springs R. 2; Mrs. Merle Gulden and daughter, Judith Ann, Gettysburg; Mrs. Crawford Bender and son, Kenneth Leroy, Aspers; James Patterson, Iron Springs R. 1; Mrs. William Sanders and daughter, Kathryn Darnell, Gettysburg R. 5; Mrs. Ervin Hess, Gettysburg R. 3; and Mrs. Harold Rife, Littlestown.

USE LEAFLETS TO CUT BLACK MARKET IN MEAT

As one aspect of the continuing Grocer-Consumer Anti-Inflation campaign, which enlists the aid both of the trade and of shoppers in eliminating above-ceiling sales of food, 37,000 leaflets listing the top ceiling prices for all cuts and grades of meat are now being distributed among housewives and other shoppers in this 10-county district.

"We are placing in the hands of consumers a simple and powerful weapon to help us smash the black market in meat," Walter C. Young, District OPA Director said.

"The big majority of retailers who are living up to their obligations under price control will welcome the appearance of these lists," Young continued. "Any activity by shoppers against above-ceiling sales protects the conscientious retailer who may have been placed in an unfavorable position and threatened with loss of customers for refusing to compete with the dishonest retailer by buying and selling meat at prices over the ceiling."

Wide Distribution

Community Service Panels and Price Panel Assistants of local War Price and Rationing Boards will distribute the lists to selected consumers in women's clubs, civic organizations, consumer and other groups, Young said. Some will go to retailers for distribution to their consumers. Labor unions will obtain the lists from local boards and the District Office for distribution to their members. Individual consumers and members of organizations can, of course, call for lists at their local boards.

Each person who receives a list will be asked to share it with members of his or her family, and groups receiving lists will be encouraged to reprint them for distribution to members and acquaintances. In this way the supply can be spread to a very large number of shoppers.

"Above-ceiling prices are the black market's profits," Young concluded. "Take away those profits, and the black market will die. Then large amounts of meat will no longer go to the unscrupulous few, and supplies will be spread more evenly among the country's retail stores and consumers."

"By using her meat price list and the large OPA posters that must be displayed in the stores, any housewife can satisfy herself that she is paying no more than the ceiling price. If she finds she is being overcharged, she should report the matter at once to the Price Panel of her local board. At her request, the board will allow her to remain anonymous in the case."

More U.S. Units Sail For Home

(By The Associated Press)

All remaining units of the Second Infantry division sail for home today from Le Havre, in addition to advance units of the 28th Infantry division. Advance units of the second left there June 30.

The following Army units arrive in the United States today from Europe:

At New York—94th Chemical Mortar battalion 824th Tank destroyer battalion, 12th Infantry regiment of the Fourth (IV) division, and the 86th and 87th bombardment squadrons of the Eighth Air Force.

The following units are scheduled to arrive Friday: At Hampton Roads, Va.—3163rd Signal Service company; members of the 87th Infantry division, 335th Field Artillery battalion, 12th and 312th Engineer battalion, 312th Medical battalion, 87th Reconnaissance troop mechanized company and 196th Army Ground Forces band.

Pennsylvania Soil Sent To Philippines

Harrisburg, July 12 (AP)—A bit of Pennsylvania soil is on its way to the Philippines to become part of a "homesick hill."

A few ounces of dirt from capitol park was sent by airmail after Governor Martin received a request from Lt. Comdr. Joseph E. Shaner, of Maryland, of the Coast guard, for soil to help relieve the homesickness of members of the armed forces stationed at an undisclosed post in the Philippines.

"We understand," wrote Shaner, "that you folks in the states have been affected lately by severe shortages of meat and cigarettes and countless other articles. Thanks for going without them. Our only real shortage out here is an acute lack of you home folks."

Shaner explained the Pennsylvania soil will be used with that from other states to construct a hill where men will have an opportunity to stand on soil from their home states.

CHANGE CENTER

Indiantown Gap, Pa., July 12 (AP)—The New Cumberland reception center where Pennsylvanians have been inducted into the army will be transferred Sunday to the Indian-town Gap Military Reservation, completing establishment of a three-unit personnel center, military authorities announced today. The New Cumberland reception center, near Harrisburg, will be remodeled into an army disciplinary barracks.

Upper Communities

Miss Martha Keighton, of Swarthmore, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic E. Griest, Jr., of Bendersville.

H. G. Baugher and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Ripley, and daughter, Joyce, of Aspers, were recent guests of Mr. Ripley's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Dorsey, of Catonsville, Md.

Miss Elizabeth Dill, of Washington, D. C., is visiting her grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. M. T. Dill, of Biglerville.

Mrs. George Baugher, of Aspers, who returned recently from a week's vacation spent at a cottage along the Rappahannock, was accompanied home by her brother, Lt. William Maddox, of the Merchant Marines, Mrs. Maddox and their son, William, Jr., who remained for a visit of several days.

Mrs. William A. Kump and her daughter, Mrs. Donald R. Heiges, who are spending some time with Mrs. E. Dale Heiges, of Biglerville, visited relatives in Hanover Wednesday.

Miss Mary Lou Johnston, of North Wales, arrived today for a visit with Miss Shirley Stubbs, of Quaker Valley. Miss Johnston and Miss Stubbs were students at George School last year.

Dr. and Mrs. Raymond F. Oyler, of Tucson, Arizona, accompanied by Dr. Oyler's sister, Mrs. Walter Plowman, of Hanover, spent Wednesday in York.

The Young Farmers' class, of Biglerville high school, will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the school.

To Dissolve SHAEF Saturday Morning

Paris, July 12 (AP)—Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force will be dissolved at 12:01 a. m. on July 14, it was announced today soon after Gen. Eisenhower returned to the continent which his combined command helped free.

The American, British and French forces which served under the supreme commander will then revert to national controls. The SHAEF announcement of its imminent dissolution contained no details.

The mighty Allied forces will revert to their own national control and Eisenhower will step over to the command of the Americans and to his place on the Inter-Allied Control Council for defeated Germany.

An announcement several days ago said dissolution of Eisenhower's supreme command was being delayed until he could return from the United States, say goodbye to his staff and direct the final ceremonies.

Suzuki Cabinet Assailed By Press

San Francisco, July 12 (AP)—As the constant blasting of Allied bombs tore at Japan's home soil today, a leading Nipponese journalist accused the Suzuki cabinet of doing nothing "while the empire is confronted by its most serious crisis," radio Tokyo reported.

Eighty-two year old Ichiro (Soho) Tokutomi, dean of the Japanese press, exhorted the cabinet to do better than hold routine meetings in the Premier's residence, said the enemy broadcast heard by the Federal Communications Commission.

Earlier Tokutomi severely criticized the government for not telling the people the truth about the seriousness of military setbacks in the Pacific.

Tokyo radio's broadcasts today brimmed over with fear for the future.

TO BE SENATOR

Carson City, Nev., July 12 (AP)—Gov. E. P. Carville, of Nevada, announced he is resigning July 31 to accept appointment to the U. S. Senate as successor to the late Sen. James C. Scrugham. Lt. Gov. Vail Pittman, brother of the late Sen. Key Pittman, said he would appoint Carville, a Democrat, immediately after assuming the governor's chair.

FILES OF BUTTER

Pittsburgh, July 12 (AP)—Dealers say butter is piling up in Pittsburgh warehouses, apparently due to lack of consumer points. The jam-up on butter has also caused a shortage of oleomargarine, which is lower in point value.

REJOINS HALSEY

San Francisco, July 12 (AP)—Comdr. Harold E. Stassen, 38 year old former governor of Minnesota, is en route today to the Pacific war zones to rejoin Admiral Halsey. Stassen, Halsey's assistant chief of staff, was granted special leave to help shape the charter as a member of the American delegation at San Francisco.

Miss Linda Ecker and Miss Laurel Taylor were Wednesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Taylor.

Mrs. Charles Thomas entertained the Blue Ribbon club at her home this afternoon.

Dr. J. L. Boyer is spending a vacation at his home in "The Narrows."

Earl Staub has built a large two story chicken house at his place in Beecherstown.

Pvt. Roy Hartzell has been spending a brief furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hartzell.

Mrs. George Golden, Carlisle, spent Wednesday with relatives here.

Mrs. Claude Vines and three daughters are visiting Mr. Vines parents in Johnson City, Tenn.

Mrs. John Frederick and three daughters are visiting relatives in Uniontown.

Pvt. Ira Flickinger will leave Friday morning for the Pacific coast after spending some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Flickinger.

ALLIES BLOCK TWO JAPANESE TROOP CONVOYS

By LEIF ERICKSON

Guam, July 12 (AP)—Japanese attempts to run two troop laden convoys of soldiers from Shanghai to bolster homeland defenses against an American invasion were apparently broken up by blockading U. S. naval aircraft, Rear Adm. John Dale Price reported today.

One of the ships in the second convoy looked like the former Italian liner Contessa de Savoia, 28,000-ton pre-war luxury ship. (Lloyds shipping register does not list a Contessa de Savoia. The Conte di Savoia was reported under German control at Venice in Nov. 1943.)

Price said none of the transports was sunk in the combined attack by Fleet Air Wing One Marines and privateers and strafing Thunderbolt fighters, but none of the transports got across the Yellow sea to Korea or through the Korean straits to the Sea of Japan.

The convoys were presumably driven into the former German port of Tsinagto, churning yellow mud in the shallow water.

Heavy Ack-Ack

Heavy anti-aircraft fire from the convoy prevented effective bombing attacks, but rockets from Thunderbolt fighters started fires lasting about 20 minutes on one ship.

The plain-spoken, Arkansas-born admiral is relinquishing command of Fleet Air Wing One to become commander of the Okinawa operating base. In this assignment the 53-year old Price will direct the development of Okinawa as an advance naval operating base.

Price is being succeeded as Fleet Air Wing One commander by Rear Adm. John Perry of Greenville, S. C.

Price's new assignment was announced simultaneously with the award to him of the Navy Cross by Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz for directing the fleet air wing's operations from Okinawa in which 159 sea going ships, aggregating 145,000 tons were sunk and 194 other vessels totaling 138,000 tons were damaged. Admiral Price said Fleet Air Wing One is able to maintain a patrol over Korea and Tsushima strait more than 16 hours daily.

The Japanese can't get started on a run across from the continent to Japan without being detected and are forced to use small 80-ton "sugar dog" freighters almost exclusively.

Grandmother Held In Child's Death

Media, Pa., July 12 (AP)—Mrs. Anne E. Duffley, 41-year-old grandmother who was held without bail in the death of 2½ year old Sandra Lee McCann, admitted that the child "greatly irritated" her, said Fred S. Jack, chief of Delaware county detectives.

Jack quoted Mrs. Duffley as saying the child's actions when being bathed or fed left her "nervous-wrecked and resentful."

Meanwhile, the child's mother, Mrs. Roberta Duffley McCann, arrived here from Bridgeport, Conn., where she is employed at a war plant. "My mother," Mrs. McCann told reporters, "has been under a terrific strain. Her household duties had got on her nerves."

"What will be done with her?" Mrs. McCann said repeatedly.

Assistant district attorney William Toal said an autopsy showed the child died of a broken neck and cerebral hemorrhage. He said her body was covered with "welts and bruises."

The child's father, Pvt. Lawrence McCann, was killed in Italy in September, 1943, without having seen his daughter.

task of finding new uses for pulpwood in the war against Japan, are largely responsible for these new discoveries which include hitherto unknown foods for human consumption, fertilizers, synthetic rubber and fine alcohols.

Among the specific items Dr. Compton believes will become important sources of greater prosperity are "wood" sugar, "the same kind of sugar which you put in your coffee this morning."

An important extract which post-war scientists will take from pulpwood is "liknin," a brownish-black substance which may furnish "many of the mysteries of the benzene ring which is at the foundation of our great modern chemical industries."

Ethyl alcohol, not the "wood" variety at all, can now be easily made from wood, says Dr. Compton. "The same kind of alcohol which familiarly comes from Caribbean molasses or from the fermentation and distillation of grains," explains the doctor.

Forest workers and farmers who are cutting peeled top quality pulpwood to meet military needs and keep the home front civilian economy going today, according to the scientist, "may look forward to more permanent employment at higher wages" than was ever gained from certain forms of agriculture in their most confident days.

PRIORITY HELD NECESSARY FOR PLANE TRAVEL

By JAMES BARLOW
Washington, July 12 (AP)—Travelers discouraged by the restrictions on Pullman cars—should think twice before trying to board airplanes without priorities.

An official of the Air Transport Association of America said: "No one, unless he's crazy, would try now to travel without a priority."

This same official scoffed at the idea that Pullman car restrictions would add to the airlines' burdens. "Where would we put them?" he asked.

Bumped Everywhere
People without priorities are being "bumped" all over the country. "They get a ride, after a wait, from one stop to the next, are bumped by someone with a priority, wait, get a ride and so on."

This is the way the official mentioned above told the story.

Before Pearl Harbor the airlines in this country had 366 planes. Came Pearl Harbor. The armed forces needed planes in a hurry. They took from the commercial lines. The domestic planes dwindled to 165.

The Army began turning transport planes back to private lines in the spring of 1943. Now those lines have 374 but need more.

Longer Days, More Miles
The Army may let them have more planes in order to handle the load of high priority passengers winging back and forth across country.

Before Pearl Harbor the commercial planes were in the air seven to eight hours out of 24.

Now they're in the air 12½ hours, a figure beyond which they cannot fly with safety. Before Pearl Harbor they traveled about 1,100 miles a day. Now they're doing 1,800.

In April 1941 the domestic lines carried 308,644 passengers and traveled 114,748,987 passenger miles. In April of this year they carried 482,821 passengers and traveled 256,511,544 passenger miles.

Non-Priority Trip
Some of the transcontinental planes have passenger lists more than 70 per cent priority.

So the American domestic passenger planes are carrying the greatest load—in passengers and miles flown—in their history.

A big part of the passenger load is made up of servicemen going home or returning to their stations.

This is the journey of one passenger who had no priority.

A wait of at least 4 days at Los Angeles, from 9 a. m. to 12 midnight every day. Then a ride to Albuquerque, N. M. A 24-hour wait there. Then a ride to Kansas City. A 24-hour wait there. Then a ride to Dayton, Ohio. An 18-hour wait there. Finally a through plane to Washington.

NON-HITCHING HIKER

Springfield, Ill. (AP)—John H. Keest, Sr., celebrated his 76th birthday anniversary by walking 24 miles from his home in Middleton, following a practice he started seven years ago.

But he's going to wait until he's 80 before making the hike again because too many motorists stopped and wanted to give him a lift.

"That's a little embarrassing," said Keest.

Leaves From Diary Of War Correspondent

By GEORGE TUCKER
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

12th Army Group Headquarters, Germany, (AP)—The Allied juggernaut that destroyed German power in western Europe destroyed at least 161 enemy divisions or similar units between D-Day, June 6, 1944, and May, 9, 1945.

Many were annihilated on their first contact with American or British arms. Others were mauled beyond recognition and their elements absorbed into other divisions.

Some, like the famed Panzerlehr Division, were wiped out time and again, only to reform and fight on until finally crushed in the Ruhr, a few fought all the way across France into Germany and still were on their feet when the remnants of the Wehrmacht surrendered unconditionally. But the overall picture is one of destruction never before equalled by English-speaking armies.

"Destroyed in the Ruhr"
The 353rd German Infantry Division was the first to be destroyed. It was hit by the U. S. First Infantry Division and the 116th Infantry Regiment of the 29th Division on Omaha Beach on D-Day in one of the most terrific fights of the Normandy campaign.

The 353rd had moved into position only the day before the invasion and for six hours after the landing the beach was in such peril that some correspondents thought the invasion had failed.

Later developments showed, however, that in this fight the 353rd was all but wiped out and had to be reformed. It reappeared later at Aachen, where it received another beating. Its remnants finally were absorbed by the 175th Infantry Division which in turn was destroyed in the Ruhr.

"Destroyed in the Ruhr" is the tagline that ended the career of more than 20 German divisions. No single pocket yielded a greater bag of prisoners to the Allied armies. A First Army spokesman originally estimated that the pocket held 125,000 enemy front line combat troops.

This figure later was contested by SHAEF, which suggested there were no more than 35,000 trapped there. But the final count showed 327,000 Germans in the bag.

Graves Along Every Road
The Hartz pocket and the Black Forest were other windfalls that contributed tens of thousands of prisoners to Allied cages.

The real core of the German army, however, was destroyed west of the Rhine. From Normandy straight across France on one side and from the Riviera up through the Vosges mountains on other, Allied armies supported by overwhelming air superiority broke the back of the Wehrmacht so that when it tried to make a stand east of the Rhine it had nothing left with which to fight.

The graves of its crack divisions are to be seen along almost every road in France from Bordeaux to Strasbourg, and the record of their demise reads like an official mortician's report—"77th Infantry Division destroyed in Normandy"; "226th Infantry Division destroyed in Brest and on Crozon peninsula"; "331st Infantry Division destroyed west of Seine"; "462nd Infantry Division destroyed south of Seine."

In the final weeks of the campaign the Allied armies were taking prisoners in excess of 100,000 daily. The high mark came April 16, when 180,000 surrendered to the 12th Army Group.

VINSON WILL BOOST BUILDING INDUSTRY SOON

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Fred M. Vinson shortly will create a new committee to give the nearly dormant construction industry a boost toward reconversion.

The inter-governmental agency group, under a chairman to be installed in Vinson's Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion, will guide a concerted effort to help the industry in matters of materials, prices and relaxation of federal controls.

Vinson holds that building activity, now stripped down to a wartime low of about $4,000,000,000 a year, should reach a $15,000,000,000 level in order to fill a postwar role in stabilizing the economy and providing jobs. This would be about 15 per cent higher than any previous volume of construction.

Construction has lagged far behind other industries in relaxation of controls, largely because of the lumber shortage which now appears destined to continue for months.

Public Works as Stabilizer
Associates of Vinson said he was equally concerned, however, with the fact the vast industry is loosely organized. Hence it has no representation like that of the automobile industry which can sit down and work out its problems with the government.

In addition to dealing with controls, it is reported that the new committee also will attempt to coordinate private building with public works. Vinson has asked for a "large shelf of public works in the blueprint stage" to enable prompt start of a government building program as a stimulus to private business.

The public works program, in Vinson's view, should be retarded when private construction hits good levels and accelerated again when private activity falls off, and thus function as a stabilizer for the industry.

Vinson's recent report to Congress estimated that the country will need 1,250,000 new dwellings annually in the ten years immediately after the war, one-third more than ever were constructed before.

Pittsburgh, July 12 (AP)—Police Lt. Bert Keller reported today a man identified as Joseph Caldwell "pushed his way" into a Mt. Washington home today, shot his estranged wife and then himself. Caldwell was dead when police arrived and his wife, Mrs. Mabel Caldwell, was taken to Mercy hospital, critically wounded.

PAPER STRIKES ON LABOR FRONT

(By The Associated Press)
Labor disputes affecting publication and distribution of newspapers in Birmingham, Ala., and New York City headlined the nation's strike news today.

Publication of three Birmingham newspapers was suspended indefinitely following a walkout by Union printers as New York City publishers moved to have 14 major metropolitan papers distributed, despite a continued strike by 1,700 deliverymen.

Four of Detroit's seven strikes ended during the last 24 hours, including the stoppage by 1,000 dairy workers. But for the fourth straight day some half million Detroit residents went without any milk. Deliveries would be normal tomorrow, dairy officials said.

Elsewhere along the nation's labor front, a dozen strikes curtailed or halted work in a varied line of industries. The country's labor disputes kept approximately 42,000 men and women from their jobs.

This, as everyone knows, is bird man's talk for "I received your message... goodbye." It's been taken up as standard chatter by "on the beam" teen-agers. THESE ARE THE BENEFACTORS

★ One of the greatest accomplishments of civilization has been the remarkable progress made in increasing the average life expectancy. In the Middle Ages the average life span was twenty years. In the seventeenth century it had advanced to twenty-five years. Through the years there has been a steady increase until, today, the life expectancy is sixty-three years for men and sixty-six for women.

Authorities agree that the most productive years of life lie between the ages of forty and sixty. Medicine and the allied sciences have thus been indirectly responsible for all progress. Good minds that had sickened and died before reaching their zenith now live to apply the judgment and experience of maturity. As pharmacists, we are proud of our function in the distribution of lifesaving medical supplies.

POSSIBILITY OF LIVESTOCK FEED SHORTAGE SEEN

Washington, July 12 (AP)—The possibility of another livestock feed shortage arose today to threaten government plans for expanding meat and poultry output in 1946.

In its July report on crop prospects, the Agriculture Department said that, due to unfavorable weather and shortages of labor and materials, this year's production of feed grains may be the smallest since 1941.

This year's production will form next year's livestock feed supply. And that supply will have to be larger than now indicated if more hogs are to be raised and fattened, if beef cattle are to be fed to heavier weights, and if poultry and egg production are to be increased.

Await Next Report
Livestock production declined last year due largely to a short feed supply and to high feed costs in response to livestock prices.

The unfavorable feed grain outlook is expected to lead Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to postpone for another 30 days, at least, decisions on proposals to establish greater financial incentives for livestock production. The next official report on crop prospects will be issued August 10.

The department's crop report said the 1945 wheat crop is expected to be the largest of record—1,128,690,000 bushels compared with 1,078,647,000 harvested last year and with the 1934-43 average of 798,000,000 bushels.

TO TAKE 200 CARS
Pittsburgh, July 12 (AP)—The ODT's ban on use of Pullmans for civilian travel on trips of less than 450 miles will cut off about 200 sleeping cars, offices of the three railroads operating here said today.

County GOP Chiefs To Meet Monday

Harrisburg, July 12 (AP)—County chairmen, assistant chairmen and state committeemen from seven central Pennsylvania counties will confer here Monday with GOP Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, state Republican headquarters announced.

Counties to be represented are Dauphin, Cumberland, York, Adams, Franklin, Perry and Mifflin.

The announcement, released yesterday, said the meeting was the first of a series to discuss general election campaign problems with local party leaders. So far no dates or meeting places have been selected for the other conferences but all will be held before end of the summer.

The state committee, Taylor announced recently, "is preparing an all-out political action program to counteract the threat of foreign 'isms'."

Today's Talk

JUSTICE
I have just been reading over many of the great speeches of Woodrow Wilson—and they were great speeches. Most of them outstanding, and models of word selection, but most outstanding of all in what he said, was the heart that he made touch every word.

All through the career of Woodrow Wilson this thing of justice, toward all men, stood out. As a teacher he taught and advocated it. As a college President, as the Governor of a great state, and finally as President of the United States, his high cry was for justice to all regardless of race, creed or nation.

A very fine book of Wilson selections was recently published and edited by Arthur B. Tourtellot and I have found the reading of it most inspiring. He quotes the phrase of a Berlin editor, uttered after the first World War, as follows: "Only one conqueror's work will endure; Wilson's thought." And then the author of this book makes the statement regarding Wilson that "he believed in justice. He had faith in mankind."

Just imagine how different this world would be today, had its leaders sought only justice toward people. You could dump a carload of laws and just leave one that stood for justice and we would be very well governed, if that law was enforced.

If we are just to our nearest neighbor, to our friends, to those with whom we deal in business, and to all those under our care as employees or associates, we would have little complaint to offer at any time. Wendell Phillips used to repeat, over and over again: "Above all—justice." Well, isn't it above all? Aren't most of our troubles over-injustice? Why are there so many strikes among laborers? Why! Absolute justice would almost create a heaven on earth here and now. Then why should we shy so much from it? Why should we not endeavor to put justice to work and make it a rule of our lives?

When any trouble arises, it would be well for us to ask ourselves whether we are acting justly or not. That's about all there is to the Golden Rule—justice! Injustice is the road to tyranny—always.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Those In Front Of The Counter"

TEACHER QUILTS

At a special meeting of the Littlestown board of education Tuesday evening, at the home of the secretary, Henry S. Firemen Clear $2,000 at Bazaar!—Net receipts of the recent food sale and bazaar of the Gettysburg Fire company were $2,015.65, according to a report made at the regular meeting of the company Wednesday evening.

Regulations for the new ambulance were read and approved.

Couples Married: Miss Hazel Bierly, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bierly, of Fairfield Station, and Ivan Sites, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sites, of Mt. Hope, were quietly married in Frederick, Maryland, at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, July 4. Rev. Glenn, pastor of the United Brethren church of Frederick performed the ceremony. Mrs. Sites has been assistant foreman in the Eagle Silk mill here for some time.

Local Teachers Given Positions:

Miss Madeline Diehl, Hanover street, and Carl Slaybaugh, Bigler street, both graduates of Gettysburg college, have been elected to fill vacancies in the faculty of the Roaring Spring high school.

Rotarians Donate Sun Parlor Room for Nurses' Home: Nine pieces of steel-fibre furniture, the gift of the Gettysburg Rotary club have been presented to the Annie Warner hospital for use in the sun parlor on the first floor of the institution, according to acknowledgement by Miss Martha McKay, superintendent. Miss McKay also acknowledged from the Acorn club of Gettysburg, the proceeds from the home-talent show "Rosetone," presented under the auspices of the club several months ago. The money is to be used to help furnish a room in the nurses' home.

Catholic Laymen Are in Retreat:

Several hundred Catholic laymen from almost every city and town in central Pennsylvania assembled at Mt. St. Mary's college, Emmitsburg, Friday night for their annual week-end retreat.

The five laymen from Gettysburg attending the retreat are Edward Farrell, P. C. Stock, Edward Swisher, George Eberhart and Allen Redding, Nicholas Ling, of New Oxford, also is present.

Dr. D. A. Poling C. E. President Portland, Ore., July 9—Dr. Francis E. Clark, founder of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, has retired after thirty-eight years of unsalaried service as president, and the duties of that office have been taken over by Dr. Daniel A. Poling, native of Portland, and present resident of New York. Dr. Poling for ten years has acted as associate president of the organization. 700 members gathered here for the annual session.

Sherfy Family Holds Reunion: The historic Sherfy homestead, along the Emmitsburg road, was the scene on Saturday, July 4, of a reunion of the descendants of the late Rev. Joseph Sherfy, who was well known a generation or two ago in Gettysburg and Adams county. The place is now owned by R. R. Long, through whose generosity the family was induced to select it for the event. Forty-one of the forty-four present were direct descendants of Joseph and Mary Hagen Sherfy.

Council Rejects "White Way" Proposal of Local Chamber: Undaunted by council's 5 to 4 vote, Friday evening, members of the Chamber of Commerce "white way" committee, on Monday were rallying their forces and stirring public opinion to show council conclusively that Gettysburg wants the street lighting improvement which it has offered the town and for the erection of which $13,000 has been raised and $2,000 additional has been promised.

Licenses to Wed Are Issued: Marriage licenses issued at the office of Luther C. Plank, clerk of the courts, over the week-end were to Herman Bentzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bentzel, Bittinger's Station, and Miss Eva Sharrah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sharrah, Cash-town, and Roy Edward Geisler, York, and Miss L. I. Becker, Oxford township.

Seized Booze Is Destroyed: Approximately 195 cases of Scotch and rye whiskey, confiscated by the state police here from a box car on railroad siding in the Philadelphia and Reading yards, last November, were destroyed Friday morning, according to Sheriff John C. Shearer, who announced the execution of the court's order.

The bonded whiskey was destroyed near the Oyer and Spangler fertilizer plant on Friday. Twenty-five cases, ordered by the court to be delivered to the Annie M. Warner hospital, were taken there at the same time.

Personal: Miss Marguerite Weaver, West High street, is spending several weeks in Middlebury, Vermont.

Mrs. Jules Eck and three children, of York, have returned to their home after visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Swisher, West Middle street. Mrs. Margaret English, of the United States Indian school, at Mt. Pleasant, Michigan, is spending a few weeks at the home of H. J. Brinkerhoff, Baltimore street.

YANK BRIDES OF ITALIANS IRKED BY SEPARATION

San Francisco, July 12 (AP)—Three American girls, who secretly married Italian prisoners of war near here within the last month and a half, are highly indignant at the War department over an abrupt separation from their husbands.

"It isn't fair," protested Mrs. Norma Scorza, 23, of San Francisco. "If the Army doesn't want the boys to get married, they shouldn't let them go out to dances and parties like they do. The fellows are young and good looking and of course they fall in love. What else does the army expect?"

Their three Italian soldier mates, who violated U. S. War department regulations by marrying while they were stationed at Camp John Knight in Oakland as members of a service unit, are now en route to an Arizona prisoner of war camp.

Brides Are Cousins

They are Giuseppe Bertolotti, 24, Maurizio Scorza, 22, and Frederico Mazzonchini, 23. Antioch, Calif., Methodist church records show that Bertolotti wedded Mildred Circo, 26, of that city June 3; and that a double ceremony there June 17 united Scorza and Norma Romeo, 23, of San Francisco, and Mazzonchini and Virginia Panfili, 21, also of San Francisco. The three girls are cousins.

The brides scoffed at reports their clandestine marriages were the only ones which had occurred in the bay area. They said many Italians at Fort McDowell, Camp Knight and the Monterey Camp had taken American wives.

The trio's marital status was discovered when the men were picked up by military police for overstaying leaves.

Army officers said the bridegrooms likely would be sent back to Italy, but Irving Wixson, U. S. Immigration Service director, reported they might be allowed to stay in this country if they can show they did not wed for that purpose.

Big League Owners To Meet Chandler

Washington, July 12 (AP)—A. B. "Happy" Chandler, baseball commissioner, sits down today to become better acquainted with the men who hired him.

Some of the big league clubowners never have met the man they selected as successor to the late Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis in the game's highest position.

By a characteristic Chandler stroke, the Kentucky senator will preside at a joint major league session in his first formal meeting with baseball's bigwigs.

Many were here yesterday for a separate American league session. The National leaguers are due in time for a morning meeting before the joint get-together.

Bonneauville—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keller announce the birth of a girl last week.

S. Sgt. Stephen Sanders of Ft. Dix, N. J., is spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Sanders.

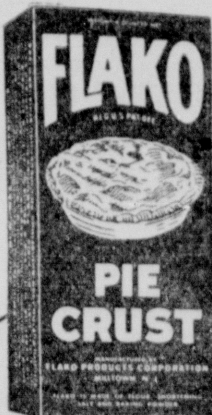

Mrs. Thomas Gebhart spent a day last week with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gelwicks in Emmitsburg. Edwin Chrismer and son, Everett, of Emmitsburg, visited Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chrismer Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. John H. Weaver and Louise Little visited Norman Weaver, of the Coast Guard in New York last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Miller and family visited Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Claggett at Fayetteville R. 1 Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Groft and family of New Haven, Conn., are spending several days with Mrs. Evelyn Chrismer.

ALLIES THROW SEA-AIR BRIDGE ACROSS OCEAN

London, July 12 (AP)—The Allies have bridged the Atlantic with the greatest air-sea rescue system ever devised in dispatching planes and men home from Europe. Many of the men and machines are headed straight for the Pacific.

The United States, Great Britain and Brazil have marked two direct paths across the ocean with chains of ships, stationed like beacons to guide planes along the way and help any which may be forced down.

Brig. Gen. Earl S. Hoag, commander of the European division of the United States Air Transport command, described the mass movement of men and machines today as the "greatest aerial elevator of all times."

60,000 Flown Home
Of 4,157 flying Fortresses, Liberators, two engine bombers and transports starting across the Atlantic, only two have been lost without trace.

More than 60,000 troops have been flown home since April 20. Another 20,000 will fly home this month, most of them battle veterans with enough points for discharge, or specialists en route to the Pacific. In August, 30,000 will fly home.

The U. S. 8th, 9th and 12th air forces are moving en masse. Many bombers which survived rough raids over Germany are headed for Japan.

TROPICAL MADNESS?

Portland, Oregon, (AP)—Passengers on a city bus driven by a discharged war veteran sweated today — and wondered, first, why it was worse in the bus with windows open than on the hot pavement, and, second, why the driver remained cool and calm.

The first mystery was cleared up late in the day when a customer noticed that all heaters in the bus were on full steam.

The enigma of the "cool and calm" bus driver was explained as the former Army vet himself. He'd just returned from a long stay in the South Pacific—and he was more comfortable than he'd been since leaving the tropics.

Miss Louise Sebald, Mrs. A. L. Leary and Mrs. Joseph K. Ash attended the Women's club meeting in Frederick, July 10.

The Entre Nous sewing club enjoyed a picnic Tuesday afternoon at Pipe Creek park, near Taneytown.

Typhoid Scare Ties Up Milk

Doylstown, Pa., July 12 (AP)—All milk shipments from this area will be banned pending an investigation of the typhoid fever death of one girl and the illness of nine others. Dr. Rufus S. Reeves, Philadelphia director of public health, announced yesterday.

The disease struck John C. Myers, milk farmer, several weeks ago, and later spread through his family and to an adjoining farm. His

The picnic was in honor of Mrs. J. P. Cameron who left yesterday for her home in Pittsburgh.

Dauphin County Asks Judgeship

Harrisburg, July 12 (AP)—Appointment of an attorney from the six-county southern area of the middle district of Pennsylvania as successor to Former Federal Court Judge Albert W. Johnson, who resigned recently, is asked by the Dauphin county bar association.

A petition to President Truman, signed yesterday by Carl B. Stoner, association president, said no judicial appointments have been made from the area comprising Adams, Cumberland, Dauphin, Franklin, Lebanon and York counties since the court was established.

The petition also asked that a permanent judicial chambers of the court be established in Harrisburg.

Principal offices of the middle district court now are at Scranton.

When food passes out of the stomach, most of it is only partially digested. The greater part of digestion is done in the 25 feet or more of intestine. Upon how well this lower half of your digestion works depends how regularly and satisfactorily your bowels move... how free you are from gas, bloating, and indigestion distress that may come from decaying food.

To help this lower half of digestion, try Beechams Pills. They help to get your liver bile, one of the most important digestive juices, to flowing freely. The liver bile helps to digest fats, and at the same time, to activate the bowels to relieve themselves. Then most folks start off the day with that beautiful morning feeling. Be sure to get genuine Beechams Pills, used by millions since 1842. Caution: Use only as directed. 26¢.

Less sugar for you

Sugar is really scarce. There has been greatly reduced production of raw cane sugar at the main source of supply—Cuba—due to a severe drought. Also the requirements of our Government for our armed forces and for feeding civilians abroad have grown heavier. As a result, there is less sugar than usual for us here at home.

Therefore, till more sugar is available, the thing to do is to use your sugar stamps wisely and make a little do a lot.

TRUMAN FACES NEW PROBLEMS IN BERLIN MEET

Washington, July 12 (AP)—President Truman is expected to seek closer and more continuous diplomatic ties with Britain and Russia when he meets Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin at Berlin.

The objective will be to assure day-to-day "handling of current European political problems which grew out of the war and for which quick solutions are considered vital to a workable peace."

At the heart of whatever proposal Mr. Truman makes along this line—probably to create an international commission—is the need to promote Big Three cooperation at a time when some forces are working to weaken it.

Blue Chips This Time
In some respects the stresses on this conference will be greater than those under which the late President Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin worked at Tehran and at Yalta. The biggest difference, of course, is that the three Allies no longer are bound by the compelling need to defeat a common enemy.

They are confronted with the necessity for writing a common peace, but in this political and economic differences of approach pose problems which the purely military considerations of the past never brought up.

This time too the real blue chips of international politics are bound to come into play more than ever before. Issues no longer can be resolved in broad statements of principle. They are concerned with specific questions of boundaries, political alignments and territorial controls not heretofore tackled on a grand scale.

From War to Peace
Generally, as diplomats here see it, the task of the Big Three at Potsdam will parallel but does not tie in directly with the work of the San Francisco conference. At San Francisco the United Nations were concerned with designing machinery to preserve peace. At Berlin the job will be mainly one of arranging the transitions from war to peace.

This may be broken down into four main categories:

1. Long-range control of Germany.

2. Disposition of territories: There are more than 30 disputed boundaries in Europe, and there are Italian colonies to be disposed of.

3. Peace conference.

4. Political and economic questions.

London expects that Stalin will urge joint economic measures to weaken Franco's hold on Spain, but there is no indication so far that Churchill and Mr. Truman would accept.

On the other hand, both London and Washington have been very critical for months of Soviet policies in the Balkans and Eastern Europe. Mr. Truman and Churchill may be expected to urge that those areas be opened to more normal diplomatic and business activities since it can no longer be claimed that they need to be so rigidly controlled for military purposes.

Probe Counterfeit Ration Coupon Plot
Philadelphia, July 12 (AP)—Federal agents were continuing an investigation today into an alleged counterfeit ration coupon racket which resulted in the arrest yesterday of a veteran Philadelphia county employee.

Held in $5,000 bail was Samuel L. Rothberg, 52, $2,400-a-year registrar of the division of Children's agents and investigators of the county commission. He also is a Republican committeeman from a South Philadelphia ward and brother of Morton Rothberg, assistant city solicitor.

He was arrested in City Hall just after Federal agents charged he sold 100,000 counterfeit red coupons worth 1,000,000 points to a Philadelphia butter dealer whose identity was not revealed. Agents said they found 50,000 additional red coupons in Rothberg's automobile.

Would Exempt GIs From Phone Taxes

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Members of the armed forces would be exempted from paying the tax on long distance telephone calls made from military or naval establishments under a bill by Rep. Green (D-Pa.), a veteran of this war.

Other House bills included one by Rep. Bradley (D-Pa.) to erect in the District of Columbia a monument in memory of the late Brig. Gen. William Mitchell.

STATE TO PAY MEDICAL BILLS

Harrisburg, July 12 (AP)—A trail-blazing program of medical care for Pennsylvania's more than 200,000 needy was disclosed today.

The new plan, effective August 1, was worked out by the department of Public Assistance in cooperation with professional groups and has the approval of the State Board of Public Assistance. It puts down in black and white what care the indigent are entitled to and establishes a schedule of fixed fees for services necessary to maintain their health.

"There was dissatisfaction among professional people and recipients with the old program," declared Acting Secretary Robert P. Wray. "Medical men objected to not receiving full payment for services and the needy at times received inadequate care."

"The old system provided lump sum allocations to counties based on the prevailing relief load and frequently resulted in only partial

ASK UNANIMOUS OK FOR CHARTER

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Leaders talked hopefully today of a unanimous Senate vote of approval for the United Nations charter.

With the Foreign Relations Committee turning again to proponents in its fourth day of testimony, Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky.) told a reporter it now appears to him there may be no negative votes on ratification of the 50-nation agreement.

Similarly, Senator Hill of Alabama, the Democratic whip, reported he could find no colleague disposed to oppose the ratification resolution, although he forecast that unsuccessful attempts would be made to attach reservations.

"We should make this vote unanimous," Hill asserted. "The senate went to war unanimously, let's go to peace unanimously."

Palpably unimpressed by the arguments of 15 opposition witnesses yesterday that the charter destroys American sovereignty and is in fact only a military alliance, committee members arranged to hear Philip Murray, president of the CIO, and other supporters today. These include Dr. William Carr, head of the National Education Association.

There also were a few more opponents on today's list.

payment of medical bills. The cost ran about $80,000 a month.

"Now the state is going to pay its bills in full."

Moisture In The Late Garden

Time is a vital factor in measuring the success of the late vegetable garden. And with the urgency for maximum stores of home-grown food this year, time should be budgeted with double miserliness during the next few weeks.

One of the most common avenues by which precious days are wasted in growing late vegetables is through lack of moisture. There is, of course no hard-and-fast rule by which to apply this advice. In one case moisture shortage may prove most critical while seed is germinating; in another it may occur immediately after growth starts, when the tiny plants are fragile; still in others it may prevail when crops are nearing maturity.

Most vegetables for late gardens are planted from early July until mid-August. Usually at this season there is not a liberal distribution of rainfall. Too, most garden soils are dried out from earlier cropping. Therefore, seed planted at this time may lie dormant for several weeks for lack of moisture to promote normal germination. This loss of time may easily prove the difference between garden success and failure.

Save Valuable Time
One of the best ways to guarantee adequate soil moisture to stimulate rapid seed germination is to cover the rows with burlap, canvas, heavy paper or fine vegetation to hold moisture. In this case, if the soil is dry at planting time, it is wise to water the bottom of the furrow before planting seed and to cover the surface with a sandy-like loam that does not crust easily.

Grass clippings, pine needles, straw or other waste vegetation may be used profitably in this role, for such materials may be retained to mulch between the rows after growth starts. The first idea is to keep the soil moist around the seed to cause quick germination and to prevent a cracked soil surface that will obstruct the fragile plant's emergence. Of course, whatever the covering employed, it must be removed as soon as the green tops appear.

Give Good Soaking
Valuable time is further saved by applying water after growth starts whenever moisture is needed. This is rendered urgent by the irregularity of late summer rains. Vegetables must be kept growing steadily. They should not be permitted to slow up even for a few days, for it may require a week or two of ideal growing conditions to enable plants to recover from the stagnation caused by a day of moisture shortage.

There are two main ways to solve this late summer and early fall moisture problem—Save moisture already in the ground and apply more. The first method, as already mentioned, can be furthered by use of vegetative mulches along the rows. Irrigation is, of course, a laborious process but one that pays big dividends when done properly and at the proper time.

In all cases where water is applied artificially it should be remembered that one good soaking a week (soaking the soil to a depth of 3 to 5 inches) is far more effective than a light sprinkling every night. In fact, the latter usually proves injurious. Water allowed to run along the rows in shallow furrows and soak into the rooting soil is the natural method. The sole purpose is to render soil nutrients soluble so the tiny feeder roots may take in the food. This means soaking the soil down where the root tips end—not sprinkling the foliage or soil surface.

GARDEN STATE TRACK TO OPEN

Camden, N. J., July 12 (AP)—Garden State's fourth season will have its Friday the 13th opening tomorrow despite the Office of Defense Transportation ruling prohibiting shipment of horses by rail or common-carrier contract.

About 800 horses already are stabled at Garden State, enough to keep the 50-day program filled even if no more horses arrive, said General Manager Walter Donovan.

It appeared as if Garden State's president, Eugene Mori, had again run into good fortune. He barely got under the wartime construction deadlines when the track was completed in June, 1942.

Racing was interrupted at Garden State by the four-month racing ban, which came after the 1944 season had ended and was lifted before the 1945 meeting was to begin.

ODT Director J. Monroe Johnson's ban prevents all shipping of horses (including show horses and dogs) except in owners' private vans, Chairman John R. Rogers of the state Racing Commission said "I believe most horses at major tracks are transported by private carriers and are not entrusted to others."

As a result, Garden State's headline event for tomorrow's opening, the Camden handicap, may be without its top attraction, Belair Stud's Apache, winner of the Toboggan and Carter handicaps.

14,000 WAVES BEING SOUGHT

The Navy stepped up its drive for WAVE enlistments today with the announcement that more than 14,000 must be enlisted during 1945. Commander S. N. Ewan, Jr., USNR, head of WAVE enlistment headquarters, Philadelphia, made the announcement, explaining that the vast expansion of the Pacific Fleet and Pacific Shore establishments had created an urgent need for more enlisted WAVES.

He stated that the passage of the WAVES overseas bill resulted in several thousand WAVES volunteering and being ordered to duty in Hawaii and Alaska. Although WAVE duty overseas is on a voluntary basis, it is contemplated that several more thousand will be given overseas assignments in the next few months, resulting in an increasing demand for WAVES to fill billets in this country.

WAVES currently are qualified in 34 different ratings involving more than 250 different types of work. The adaptability of women in the service has made it possible for the Navy to train WAVES in several additional ratings heretofore held only by men.

All newly enlisted WAVES will be given 8 weeks of training at the U. S. Training school, Bronx, New York, before being ordered to one of the specialists schools. Additional information may be obtained from the nearest Navy Recruiting station.

SAY UNCLE

By DOROTHY BURGESS

Chapter 16

Madge and Mario's faces became distorted from the nasty, alum-like bitterness of Uncle Louie's purple liquid formula.

"What vile-tasting stuff!" cried Mario, who was now in Madge's body.

"It's worse than Uncle Louie said!" cried Madge, who was now in Mario's body.

They had exchanged bodies so quickly that neither of them was aware that the miraculous exchange had taken place. Then came the dawn, as Madge felt suddenly chilly and quite naked in Mario's flimsy negligee, and Mario felt suddenly warm as she loosened Madge's sable neckpiece from around her neck.

Madge asked in a frightened awed voice, "It has worked hasn't it?"

"I think, I think," said Mario, as she ran her hand down her body, which was Madge's, "it has."

"It is unbelievable, isn't it?" asked Madge, as she self-consciously pulled a fold of chiffon over her scantily clad body, which of course was Mario's.

Mario's voice dropped to a whisper. "How do you feel?"

And Madge answered in a whisper. "All right. How do you feel?"

"All right. Your body seems to feel in the pink of condition."

"So does yours."

"It should; I take damned good care of it." Then Mario dropped her whispering and demanded, "Just make sure you take damned good care of it by keeping it on its strict diet. I don't want to come back in a week and find it gone to pot!"

Madge also dropped her whispering as she promised, "I'll keep it trim by exercising it every morning."

"Just a minute, Mrs. Winston; just what kind of exercise are you referring to?"

"Riding in Central Park," said Madge.

"Oh, no, you won't!" said Mario. "You're not going to get that carcass of mine all sore and stiffened up. I'll let you walk around the block a couple of times, but that's all!"

"Very well," said Madge, "but I wish you'd ride mine; we have two lovely horses in the stable."

"Sorry, Mrs. Winston, but the nearest I ever got to a horse is betting on them."

Madge laughed. "Looks like I'm the one to end up getting sore and stiffened."

Mario smiled knowingly. "I wouldn't be a bit surprised, Mrs. Winston. Then she added, 'Please be kind enough, Mrs. Winston, not to park my body out in the sun—it makes it freckle and brown.'"

"Stop worrying," laughed Madge. Mario looked at her quizzically. "You don't seem to care what I do with your body."

"Oh, but I do, I happen to be very fond of my body, but I think I'm intelligent enough to know that you'll take care of it."

Mario swallowed Madge's slightly dirty dig and said, as she started off toward her bedroom, "I'll pack my things—"

Madge stopped her. "Sorry, but you can't take any of your personal things; you'll have to manage with mine."

Mario turned in surprise. "Not even my toothbrush?"

"You'll find everything you need out at the house."

Mario suddenly thought of a certain drawer in her bedroom desk that contained several packages of love letters of the past.

"Surely," said Mario, making an excuse to get into the bedroom so she could look the desk drawer, "I can powder my nose a little?"

"Make it very little, because I use very little."

Mario couldn't resist saying nastily, "Of course, I must remember that I am now the shiny-nosed, outdoor type of woman."

Madge smiled sweetly. "And I must remember that I am now the indoor type of woman."

Mario held her tongue but thought, Once I get out of here I'll do what I want with her silly old face. Furthermore, she thought as she looked her desk drawer, I wouldn't put it past Mrs. Fancy Drawers to go snooping around. And with that thought in mind, Mario hid the key under a corner of the rug. Then, as she passed her dressing table on the way back to the living room, she deliberately stopped.

"I'll be damned if I'll give up everything!" she exclaimed, as she piled her make-up and a bottle of Lotus Petal into her purse, which of course was Madge's purse she was now carrying. Then, void of any guilty feeling, she sallied back into the living room.

"Well, I'm on my merry way," she said.

"You'll find Uncle Louie and my dog, Sunshine, waiting for you downstairs in my car. You can drive, can't you?" asked Madge.

"Can I?" boasted Mario. "I'm a female Jehu who gathers speed ticks as a pastime."

"Please don't drive too fast, you might frighten Uncle Louie."

Mario laughed a throaty laugh. "Uncle Louie should have used his purple stuff to swap bodies with Goliath!"

Madge panted her belittling the genius in Uncle Louie. "I wouldn't make fun of Uncle Louie if I were you," she advised.

Mario laughingly asked, "Why not?"

"Because," answered Madge, making up a threat that would force Mario to treat Uncle Louie kindly. "If anything should go wrong, you'll have no one to lean on but Uncle Louie."

Mario's laughter turned into a nasty snicker as she glared at Madge. "Well, get this through that head of mine—I'm not as dumb as you think I am. Why do you think I drank that purple stuff, anyhow?"

Madge shook her head.

"Not because you wanted me to, but because John has gone back to Winston Manor! And now I'm going back to him instead of you! I am the one who's pulled the fast one, on you, Mrs. Fancy Drawers!"

Madge stood stunned as Mario slammed out of the apartment.

RACING TO ASK CLARIFICATION OF NEW ORDER

Washington, July 12 (AP)—Racing will ask for a clarification of the government's reinstated ban on shipment of horses.

Harry A. Parr, III, of Baltimore, president of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations, said he has an appointment today with Col. J. Monroe Johnson, Director of Defense Transportation, who announced the prohibition.

Transportation of racing and show animals by railroad and common or contract truck carriers was forbidden, effective last night, until next July 1, unless modified or lifted in the meantime.

Parr said that some of the tracks still were in doubt as to what to do and added "I'm going to go over the situation with Mr. Johnson."

Officials Optimistic

This latest restriction—the second applied to racing since the first of the year—had the effect of confining the billion-dollar sport to tracks now operating.

But racing officials, in most instances, reacted with characteristic optimism, expressing confidence in their ability to carry out scheduled meets by moving horses through means not falling under the ban.

Privately-owned trucks or vans may be used for shipping horses under the order, and there is no prohibition on the use of trailers attached to owners' automobiles.

Governor Urges Paper Salvage

Harrisburg, July 12 (AP)—Pennsylvania is urged by Governor Martin to continue "with unabated vigor until the war is won" the task voiced by a spokesman for the Grand Circuit Harness meeting at North Randall track near Cleveland.

"We think it was unfair to issue such an order without giving us some advance notice," he said. "The season has just started for us and now we just don't know what to do."

Horsemen generally indicated that the travel ban will localize the sport around such cities as New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia in the east; Chicago in the mid-west, and Los Angeles on the Pacific coast.

Trotting, and pacing officials expect to carry out their schedules, including the historic Hambletonian at Ctesen, N. Y., August 8.

of salvaging waste paper, tin cans, rags, iron and steel scrap, and fats to help war industries produce needed materials.

"Likewise, the efforts to produce, preserve and conserve food must be increased," the chief executive said yesterday in a statement.

Martin said the value of scrap collected by more than a half million volunteers for nearly 3 1/2 years has averaged over a million dollars a month.

The richest silver-lead deposits in the world are located at the Broken Hill mines Australia.

SHOW BIG GAINS
OVER '44 SEASON

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Baseball swings into a fourth vital interseasonal series today with the Chicago Cubs and Detroit Tigers, respective league leaders, showing largest gains over their 1944 mid-season standings.A year ago both the Bruins and Bengals were mired deep in seventh place while today's won and lost records show Chicago one game ahead of the National pack and Detroit with a 4½ length advantage in the American.Both 1944 champions, the St. Louis Cardinals and Browns, are behind their '44 pace, the Cards 9½ games off last year's pace and dropped from the lead to third. Luke Sewell's "Cinderella Gang" has had tougher sledding, dropping from first to sixth, six games behind their pennant-winning gain.Better Than Last YearLast year's American league derby was tossed into a wild scramble by the return of Dick Wakefield right after the annual all-star game. With Wakefield in left field, the Tigers drove from the second division into the fight, losing on the last day of the season. This year Detroit has been first since June 12 and comes east to open in Boston with a chance of building a solid lead by a repetition of their first successful road jaunt.Charley Grimm was just beginning to right the Cubs a year ago after their disastrous early-season record when they dropped 11 of their first 12 starts, now Chicago has just returned from a sizzling eastern trip on which they won 13 of 16 and displaced Brooklyn in first place.The Boston Braves, who were manhandled by the Bruins 24-2 and lost an entire series to Chicago at home, lead the invaders into Wrigley field followed by New York, Brooklyn and Philadelphia. The Dodgers open their drive to regain the lead in Cincinnati and third-place St. Louis, only 1½ games off the pace, open a series of night engagements at Sportsman's park with the Giants.Senators ImpressDetroit comes to the Atlantic seaboard with Dizzy Trout and two lesser pitchers on the ailing list but with Hank Greenberg making his first swing around the circuit and Hal Newhouse burning up the loop at his 1944 pace. After Boston, the Tigers face an important four-game series in New York and then move on to Washington and Philadelphia.
More than one baseball expert returned from the west with the conviction that Washington represents the east's number one flag contender on its five-star pitching staff.Ossie Bluege's Senators have proved stronger away from home than at Griffith stadium and wound up their latest tour with 11 victories out of 15 games against the Tigers,
Browns, White Sox and Indians.
Chicago leads the parade into Washington tonight.Lowly White Roses

Wilmington's Blue Rocks took an 8-4 shellacking from the lowly York White Roses last night, but still gained a half-game on the pace-setting Lancaster Red Roses, who dropped a pair to Trenton, 2-1 and 4-3.Hagerstown's Owls dropped a decision to Allentown, 4-3.Wilmington moved to within two games of Lancaster in the Interstate league race despite their loss.
The White Roses punched out two runs in the second inning and added five in the third to sew up the game.
Stan McMurray went the route for the winners, tossing five-hit ball.The Trenton Spartans honored Danny Long, fiery shortstop, in ceremonies at home plate and went out to give the home town a lot to cheer about by upsetting the league leaders.Eastern League(By The Associated Press)
Albany was back on its winning ways today.The Senators, who had dropped four in a row, drubbed Scranton 13-3 last night to pull into second in the Eastern league race, half a game behind Wilkes-Barre. The Barons split with Hartford, coping a 5-4 opener and then being edged 2-1.Sports

FACES NELSON

Dayton, O., July 12 (AP)—Mike

Turnesa, 36-year-old golf star from White Plains, N. Y., goes into today's 36-hole second round matches of the 27th PGA championship hoping he can do as well as his kid brother, Sgt. Jim, did three years ago.Mike has the chore of playing Byron Nelson, the Toledo umbrella man transplanted from Texas—and that's considered the toughest chore a pro can face. Nelson, favorite for the title, has won 30 of his 36 matches in PGA play.But three years ago, at Atlantic City, Sgt. Jim Turnesa handed Nelson one of his six defeats, when Byron muffed a 20-inch putt on the 36th, when one up, and then blasted his drive out of bounds on the 37th.
In his losing matches, Nelson has gone the full 36 holes or more on five occasions.Nelson breezed into today's second round with a 4 and 3 win yesterday over Gene Sarazen, three-time winner of the tourney, while Mike registered a 5 and 4 verdict over Johnny Gibson of Wilmette,
Illinois.Along with Nelson and Brother
Mike, 14 other survivors of yesterday's setups and upsets were in there firing today—including Sgt.
Jim Turnesa who blasted by Haecke of Bensenville, Illinois, 9 and 7.Corn Production

To Be Up In 1945

Harrisburg, July 12 (AP)—Corn production on Pennsylvania farms this year is expected to exceed last year's output by 1,140,000 bushels, although nationally the crop will be more than a half-billion bushels under that of 1944, the state agriculture department reports.The department's July 1 crop estimate was for 54,720,000 bushels, almost a half-million more than the average for 1934-43.Yields well above 1944 for wheat, oats, barley, rye and hay were also forecast.Fights Last Night
